“Summit Hats treasures your individuality which you express by carefully considering the clothes and accessories you choose. We also believe that your cowboy hat accessories shouldn’t be limited. Up to now, they always have been. Except for hatbands and hat pins, nearly every other cowboy hat accessory has always been permanently affixed during the production process. And although it’s wonderful to see companies expanding their range of decorations, it’s still a big challenge to find the exact fit, exact crown, exact brim and exact accessories you want. This is why—here at Summit Hats—we’re proud to introduce the world’s first interchangeable bound-edge for hats, ‘The Bound Edge’. Now you have endless possibilities.”

MATT FARRIS

With a positive energy and incredible talent, Matt Farris is a singer songwriter with a redneck style. Entertaining family and friends from the moment he spoke his first word, the Arizona native's passion of entertainment has always been apparent. With an early exchange of lullabies for classic country tunes sung by his mother, Farris has since gravitated toward the country genre. Farris continued to work on his music throughout college in Arizona and encouraged by his success, he move to Nashville in 2011, singing with Skytone Entertainment.

Farris' country voice has a little grit, fitting just right in his country pop sound. In 2012, he released his first single "Redneck Radio," a song making listeners want to get up and dance. The single saw placement in both the Billboard Indicator (peak #56) and Music Row charts. Shortly following the release of his first single, the full album Matt Farris, featuring the single "Resident Redneck" was released in 2013. After the success seen by Farris and his team from these two releases, the cast of CMT's My Big Redneck Family was seen sporting Matt Farris shirts on an episode.

Matt Farris, always loving to entertain, also continues to play live as much as possible, sharing the stage with Darryl Worley, Uncle Si of Duck Dynasty and Colt Ford, and opening for Jason Aldean, Tyler Farr, Joe Diffie and Gord Bamford.

Matt Farris' most recent single, "She's Done," saw high placement on both Billboard Indicator (#54) and Music Row (#46) charts. With this song, listeners can't help but sing along and sway, different from the mood brought by his first single. A music video for the single was released, and you can view it on his website www.mattfarriscountry.com. Currently, Matt is out on the road playing, which is what he loves best. Stay up to date with Matt Farris and his upcoming projects on his website and social media.
